AT THE HOSPITAL

No Discouraging Reports from Any of the Sick Boys

The majority of the sick boys from the Portsmouth and Dover companies of the First New Hampshire Volunteers at the Cottage hospital, continue to improve at this grand institution and no discouraging reports are made concerning the condition of the very sick.

William Peverly and George McPheters, both very ill, were in about the same condition this morning that they were last night. Peverly was a little better, if there was any change, for he secured some rest during the night. McPheters was very much exhausted from the long trip from Lexington.

Lane and Foster of the Dover company are still very ill but both are expected to recover.

The others are improving, very slowly of course, but they are stronger, brighter, more hopeful and very grateful for the treatment they were receiving at the hospital.

The first thing the boys want to speak about in their trip on the hospital train, is praise for the efforts of Dr. Towle and Mr. Hannaford and the nurses that cared for them.

The boys will never forget that trip. From one bunk to the other, day and night without sleep for apparent thought of self, the doctor and his assistants worked over their almost lifeless, favored bodies.

The boys say that Peverly and McPheters would never have reached here alive but for the work directed by Dr. Towle. They speak of him particularly because they knew him, but the same grateful expressions about all are also heard.

Several of the sick will be able to be taken to their homes in a few days.

SECRETARY LONG HERE

Passed Through Portsmouth This Forenoon for Boston

Hon. John D. Long, secretary of the navy, passed through this city at 11 o'clock today on the way from his summer residence in Berkeley, Me., to Boston.

The secretary did not stop over in this city as it was expected he would, owing to pressing business in Washington.

He chatted pleasantly with a number of Portsmouth people whom he recognized in the depot car.

The secretary apparently was in the best of health and said he felt very much refreshed from his short trip down in Maine.

At Camp Long

At camp Long everything is in readiness for the departure of the Spanish prisoners, and it will take only a short time for them to get their belongings aboard the City of Rome when she arrives. From word received yesterday by the Spanish officers, it is thought that the steamer will not arrive before Sunday morning.

The report circulated that all of the Spanish prisoners confined at camp Long were anxious to go home to Spain is pronounced by the officers in charge as untrue.

They have made a careful canvass of the prisoners, and find that not more than one-half wish to return to their native land—first, on account of fear of poor treatment in being transported, and second, on account of the reception which they believe is in store for them. They say that they will not be received with open arms or awarded any medals for bravery.

As a large proportion are convicts taken from prisons, the thought of being returned to their former places also seems to worry them.

Coming Changes

There will be numerous changes among the marine officers after the departure of the Spanish prisoners from camp Long for Spain. Capt. B. F. Russell will go to League Island station, Capt. A. C. Kelton to the Boston yard and Capt. W. F. Spicer to the marine barracks at this yard. The lieutenants will be ordered to the several navy yards.

Our Soldiers in Concord

Concord, Sept. 9.—"Welcome home" is the joyous greeting which has been extended to the New Hampshire volunteers throughout the entire day. Thousands of visitors—people from all parts of the state—have traveled to the state camp grounds to once more clasp the hands of beloved husbands, sons, brothers, or some dear friends who have at last returned to the Granite hills of their native state, after four months of hard service beneath the sultry sun of the Southern skies. These visitors have seen much to interest them, some things to please and some to sadden.

On the one hand, is the evident delight of the men at standing once more upon New Hampshire ground. It is "God's own country," as one of the officers said in expressing his appreciation of the privilege to once more return to old New England. As the Union man passed through the camp this morning, greeting the officers and privates alike, he noticed the joyous expressions upon the faces of those care-worn men, which told, better than words, of their merit.

On the other hand are marks of the privations which the regiment has endured. The men are thin, as a rule. Many of them, while still performing their duties, as a matter of fact, have a reasonable claim to be in the hospital, but have kept going, so to speak, by sheer pluck and determination. As it is, the list of sick is far too long. When the roll was called this morning it showed that there were thirty-seven officers and 935 present with the regiment and six officers and 313 privates absent. Of the latter, 110 are carried on the rolls as sick, and 191 are away on furloughs.

Twenty-three New Hampshire men have died since the regiment went South. This is the official record, but to it is to be added the name of private John S. Angler, whose death at Chickamauga has previously been reported in the columns of the Union. Just 1000 men marched away with the regiment on the 17th of May—four months ago—but on the second call 311 volunteers were added to its ranks.

Charles Bangay of Portsmouth has been granted a nine days' furlough. The only discomforting element with which the men have to contend is the exceedingly cool weather for this time of the year in this section. It is a great change from Lexington and unless a warmer wave comes this way it is thought there will be danger of considerable sickness.

Of the 64 men who came on the hospital section yesterday, 20 were brought to the hospital here and they are pronounced the sickest lot of the three hospital divisions that have been brought here. A large percent have typhoid fever, but no deaths are expected.

It is now expected that the regiment will be ready to leave the city on a 30 days' furlough by Wednesday morning. The only thing to prevent will be the non arrival of the pay roll from New York.

Col. Rolfe is to tender a complimentary review to Gov. Ramsdell and staff on Monday afternoon.

There have been thousands of visitors in camp today.

Lieut. F. H. Lawton, 21st infantry, U. S. A., detailed in the commissary department, department of the east, with headquarters in New York arrived in town last night and inspected the camp this morning, for the purpose of satisfying himself that supplies had been received and were being distributed properly. He expresses himself as highly pleased with his inspection of this department.

Lieut. Newcomb of the 5th artillery, U. S. A., the mustering officer, is in the city, as is Lieut. E. Landon, 2d artillery U. S. A., quartermaster and commissary. Furlough papers are being rapidly placed in shape, so that as soon as the men are all paid, they can immediately leave for their homes.

MAY NOT BE MUSTERED OUT.

Ex Captain T. R. Wilson of Company A paid a visit to the state camp ground on Friday and a Herald man had an interesting chat with him on the train. Said he: "The boys had a tough night in Concord and all slept on the ground and this morning they were a tired lot. All are feeling in excellent spirits and are glad to get home. It appears to be the general opinion among the officers that the regiment will not be mustered out for some time and may be ordered to duty any day. The three sick men in Concord are doing nicely."

SPANISH GUERRILLAS LEAVE.

Eighteen Spanish guerrillas who belong in Cuba left the navy yard on Friday evening for Cuba. They boarded the Flying Yankee and will go to New York, where they take a steamer for Havana. The men were in charge of an officer and they were paid in full before leaving the yard.

Cycle Club Boys Want To Parade.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Portsmouth Cycle club was held in their rooms on Congress street on Friday evening, as the question of the anniversary, which falls on Sept. 15th, was to be brought up.

It was voted to hold a grand banquet and dance in Philbrick hall on that evening for the club members and their lady friends.

A committee was appointed to make all necessary arrangements and they will start to work at once.

A committee was also appointed to consult with the proper authorities to see if the club members cannot act as a sort of body guard to Company A in the big parade next Friday. A large number of Company A boys are members of the club and the boys are anxious to do something to help the affair along.

It is their intention, if permission is given them, to form a company with President Mudgett as captain and to march behind Company A boys in the parade. Every member will wear white duck trousers, with their regulation coat and white hat. President Mudgett is a member of Company A and served through the war in the New Hampshire regiment.

The club numbers some eighty members and would make an excellent showing.

As seen in Exeter

The Exeter correspondent of the Manchester Union writes as follows on the political outlook in the county:

Politics never was more in a state of ferment here than at present. Nothing is now discussed but how the local, county, senatorial, councillor, congressional and state conventions will result, and many a candidate who rested easily a week ago is now on pins and needles. The fight locally, centers upon the selection of four representatives to the legislature. A string of names is an omnium of men who are candidates, and the lucky four will be obliged to wage a bitter war.

The county politics are perhaps the most bitter of all, and the fight for sheriff, register of probate and county solicitor will be to the finish. The interest in the senatorial and congressional convention is increasing daily, owing to the opposition to Salloway, and the efforts of numerous journals to run General Gale of this town instead, in place of for the senatorship, for which position, according to his statement, he is a candidate. Worcester's chances seemed to have boomed perceptibly lately and he will probably give Rollins a good run for the republican nomination for governor.

In the meantime, while the republicans are in the midst of their seap for honors, the democrats are sitting back and enjoying it immensely, ready all the while to step in and gather the plum in the worst cases of discord.

METING OF CITIZENS' COMMITTEE.

The citizens' meeting at the city rooms on Friday evening was quite largely attended, and Mayor Tilton reported on the result of his visit to Company A.

F. W. Hartford reported that the Boston & Maine railroad would place excursion tickets on sale at all points on their lines in this section for the big day.

Various matters were discussed and the meeting adjourned to this Saturday evening.

Visitors at the Navy Yard Will Be Excluded Sunday and Monday

Commodore George C. Ramey, U. S. N. commandant at the navy yard has issued an order excluding all visitors from the navy yard and Seavey's island on Sunday and Monday and until all the Spanish prisoners are transferred to the steamer. No boats will be allowed to land and the order will be most rigidly enforced. The order is necessary owing to the great demand that would be made on the commandant to issue passes when he and his assistants are busy with the transfer.

It would be impossible to handle the crowds that are anxious to visit the yard on that day and only those at the yard will be permitted on the island. Were it possible to allow all on the island nothing would be more pleasing to the commandant and his assistants. The issuing of the order will thus save many people the trouble of visiting the yard and then being refused.

CITY BRIEFS.

School commences on Monday morning.

That house on wheels attracts considerable attention.

Everybody should lend a hand to make the big celebration next week a success.

Probate court will convene in Portsmouth next Tuesday and in Exeter the following day.

Nothing unlucky about the thirtieth anniversary of the P. A. C. It was a grand success.

Rev. J. A. M. Chapman, D. D., of Philadelphia, will preach at the North church on Sunday.

The Spaniards at Seavey's island will soon leave us. They are working out their days of grace.

Admiral Cervera's presence in this city does not create the excitement as did that of his first visit.

Next week with its banquets and celebrations promises to be even more lively than the present week has been.

Arrived today: steamer Charles F. Mayer with 1600 tons, large C. C. C., No. 1, with 1500 tons, large C. C. C., No. 4, with 1650 tons, all for J. A. and A. W. Walker.

The services of the Army and Navy Christian Commission of the Y. M. C. A. for Sunday will be at 10:30 on the U. S. S. Lancaster, at 2 at Camp Heywood and at 1 at Fort Constitution.

The law on gray squirrels does not go off until Sept. 15, and for every one shot before that date the person shooting it is liable to a fine of $5 or thirty days' imprisonment, or both.

The brigade staff of the U. R. K. P. held a meeting in Concord yesterday and voted to hold a field day at Manchester, Oct. 18. Gen. C. B. Hoyt was unable to attend the meeting, owing to illness.

A party of Newmarket people enjoyed a clubhouse at the Robinson farm, Bay-side, Tuesday. Although the day was a hot one, the party had a most delightful time, and did full justice to the bake.

See the transfer back to Admiral Cervera of the men of his destroyed fleet tomorrow, due to that island between the 2nd and 3d Newcastle bridge. The Greeley landing is close at hand from there.

We advise all who have not yet seen the Spanish prisoners to do so tomorrow. They are to embark for their homes in one of the very largest palaces about tomorrow or Monday. There is no better place from which to view the whole scene than from the shores spanned by the third Newcastle bridge.

The hot and phenomenally sultry summer of 1893 will long be memorable among chroniclers of the weather. The thermometer has not risen exceptionally high, but the persistent stay of the mercury in the eighties and nineties combined with a very high degree of humidity is happily rare, if not unprecedented in this section of the country.

All roads will lead to Newcastle tomorrow, the great "City of Rome" anchored close to her shores, the best view of the Spanish camp, the Greeley landing from which the prisoners are to embark, the camp of the heroes of Guantamano; all are best seen from the highways and bridges directly connecting our city with the old historic town.

Of the many quaint characters of child history which never grow old, none are more delightful to the eye and ear than the valiant Jack who climbed the Beanstalk, Old King Cole and his fiddlers three, Little Miss Muffet, The Old woman who lived in a shoe, and The Eight Pretty Maids. They are all gathered together in the production of Jack and the Beanstalk and the man or woman who wishes to treat himself or herself to a renewal of old acquaintances can embark in no better enterprise than to go see this charming spectacle.

A COALING STATION RECOMMENDED.

Admiral Belknap and Captain Allen V. Reed, U. S. N., who examined points on the New England coast for coaling stations have made their report.

Recommendations are made that coaling stations be established at several places on the Atlantic seaboard, from Portsmouth, N. H., south, and on the gulf as far west as the mouth of the Mississippi river. Especial emphasis is laid on the importance and value of a coaling station at Porto Rico, where the naval authorities are confident one will be placed when peace is declared and the territory formally becomes a part of the United States.

The cost of each station will be between $100,000 and $200,000, according to its locality and the expense attending any dredging that may be necessary. The stations are to have capacities varying from 5,000 to 20,000 tons of coal.

The Portsmouth yard is given a strong recommendation by the board.

ABOUT ROYAL FEET.

Queen Victoria Wears a No. 8—The Empress of Germany Spins Footed.

Though it is an accepted fact of Spanish etiquette that "the Queen of Spain has no feet," so much cannot be said of Victoria, Empress of India, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland. Short and pudgy as she is something under five feet the royal lady wears a No. 8 as do all her daughters. Thereon she shows her German blood as does Maria Christina, Spain's Queen Regent, who is by birth an Austrian archduchess. Her predecessor, Mercedes, a true Spanish Bourbon, about the daughter of the French Duc de Montpensier, had, it is said, the foot of a fairy. Thereon she resembled her aunt and mother-in-law, ex-Queen Isabella, who, though of most unwieldy figure, possessed in her youth royally delicate extremities. It was one of her great granddaughters whose beautifully slender foot, trim ankle and highly arched instep, drew from a foreign Ambassador a compliment, which the Spanish Minister to whom it was spoken, answered so crushingly: "Sobor, the Queen of Spain has no feet."

Germany's Empress, it is irreverently whispered, inclines to be spayed-footed, though otherwise she is a well made woman. Princess Alice of Hesse now Carolina, trends upon a foot long and slender, as becomes one of her blood. Rumor says not as to the feet of Italy's Queen, Marguerite, "the pearl of Savoy," but it does tell how Her Majesty's latest fad is the collection of ancient royal foot gear.—New York World.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 10, 1898.

Gen. Lawton must be unpopular with the Cubans. He makes them work.

Gen. Brooks meanders through Puerto Rico as Tonnyson's brook.

Not only is there glory enough to go round, as Commodore Schley said, but there is mud enough.

It will be Governor Rollins and any attempt to fool the republicans into supporting any other candidate will meet with failure.

HOW HE BECAME TREASURER.

Mr. Fessenden Greatly Surprised When Chosen for This Office.

Congress was about to adjourn, after a long and anxious session, in which Mr. Fessenden had borne the conspicuous and responsible part of leader in the Senate, where he had been charged with all revenue measures and the financial policy of the government, says Alhusworth H. Spafford in the May Atlantic. He was worn with daily and nightly labor, and had looked forward longingly to the accustomed rest of the summer vacation. He went to the White House one morning it was five days before the adjournment to confer with Mr. Lincoln as to the measures of legislation then in their final stages, and to consult as to a proper candidate to be proposed for the Treasury Department. It was all essential to secure some one who would command public confidence in such a critical juncture. Mr. Lincoln put his hand upon Fessenden's shoulder, and declared that he himself was that man, surprised and almost confounded, the Senator told the President that he could not accept, that he was nearly worn out with the responsibilities and toil of the protracted session, and that for him to assume the onerous duties of the Treasury in the burning heat of Washington, at such a moment, would be dangerous, if not suicidal. He could not, would not accept it. He besides his frail health, he did not feel himself qualified for the office. Mr. Lincoln replied with feeling and energy in a strong appeal to Mr. Fessenden's patriotic impulses, with assurances that he had the confidence of the financial interests of the country, that should have the way smoothed by the aid of able lieutenants, and closed by telling him that the nomination had already been sent to the Senate. In fact, Fessenden's appointment had already been unanimously confirmed.

He at once resolved to sink personal considerations, and to enter upon the office, with the proviso that he should be at liberty to withdraw whenever a fit successor should be found to relieve him. He himself said of it, "I took the office reluctantly and as a matter of duty, and vacated it just as soon as I could."—A. R. Spafford in Atlantic Monthly.

THE MERITS OF SEAWATER.

A physician proffers advice to persons who are fond of sea bathing. He says that each man ought to learn for himself the length of time it is advisable for him to stay in the water. Many people stay in half an hour, when they should not be more than five minutes or less, and the harm they thus do to themselves may be long run to be serious. Persons who have low vitality and a slow reaction after the bath should make their bath shorter, until they secure a reactionary glow immediately on leaving the water. Another bad practice that many people indulge in is to take a drink of whisky or other spirit as soon as they can get into their clothes, for the purpose of taking out of their mouths the taste of the sea water they may have accidentally swallowed. In this way they are undoing a great deal of the good the bath is intended to do them. As a matter of fact, one of the most beneficial features of a sea bath is the salt water moderately swallowed by the bather. It is a wonderful tonic for the liver, stomach and kidneys. It is said that in many cases it will cure biliousness when all drug preparations have failed. It is particularly effective in ordinary cases of indigestion, disordered stomach and insomnia, and has been known to produce excellent results in many cases of chronic dyspepsia. Clean sea water is full of tonic and sedative properties, and two or three big swallows of it from having anybody, is of positive and distinct benefit to nine bathers out of ten.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fun on the Outpost.

It is related of an Irish recruit on duty at Chikamaunga, one night, that he challenged a figure in the darkness with the usual "Who goes there?" The reply, "The officer of the day," was something he was not prepared for, so he responded, "Then, what the devil are you doing out here at night?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

NOTES FOR DAILY THOUGHT.

Strive daily and hourly to be calm; to stop yourself forcibly and recall your mind to a sense of what you are, where you are going and whether you ought to be tending. This is most painful discipline, but most wholesome.—Reformed Church Messenger.

He is most my friend who teaches me self-reliance; and self-reliance, in the last analysis, is reliance on those laws and principles which can never be severed from us.—Trinitarian and Sanctified.

"There are people who can do all fine and heroic things but one; keep from telling their happiness to the unhappy."—A Mark Twain Maxim, in "Following the Equator."

He that hath so many causes of joy and so great is very much in love with sorrow and peevishness who loses all the pleasure and chooses to sit down upon his little handful of trouble. Enjoy the blessing of this day, as God sends them, and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly, for this day is only ours; we are dead to yesterday, and we are not yet born to the morrow.—Jeremy Taylor.

A Christian is always "on duty"—never "off duty." He must always be the uniform of holiness appear. He is set apart for the service of his Master unremittently. Into his life there has entered a something which reminds him that he must always be on his best behavior, and must always be seeking to live not to himself, but to Him whose he is and whom he serves. His actions are ever a matter of concern to his Lord, and he takes pleasure in noting that the life is one of complete self-surrender, in little things and in those of greater consequence.—Mortimer.

ARMY TO DISBAND.

Cuban Patriots Likely Soon to Leave the Field.

GENERAL ELECTION TO BE HELD.

Cubans In Santiago Will Not Be Allowed to Vote—No Restrictions Placed on Suffrage—General Garcia's Conduct to Be Explained to the Junta—Last Fight Was on Aug. 17.

New York, Sept. 8.—A special cable to the San from Santiago says: Major Benjamin Giguera of General Garcia's staff arrived at Jaganu yesterday. He brought news that the Cubans in the interior of the island are hurrying preparations for the election on Sept. 12. One of the objects of the convention is to decide on the disbandment of the army.

Major Giguera will sail for the United States today on the Sagamore. He carries a message from General Garcia to the Cuban Junta. He says that the Cuban government had refused General Garcia from the rank of lieutenant-general to major-general before his resignation was accepted. The treatment of General Garcia is not approved by the Cubans.

The chief object of Major Giguera's visit to the United States is to explain the part of General Garcia's conduct that is not understood by the Junta. The last fight between Cubans and Spaniards in Santiago province occurred on Aug. 17, near Gibara. The Spaniards belonging to General Luján's column attempted to retake Gibara, but were repulsed after a short fight. The Cubans lost 15 killed and 15 wounded. The Spanish loss was heavy. General Luján had not heard of the peace negotiations, and General Garcia did not know of them until the day after the fight. The news was taken to Gibara by the gunboat Nashville. The Cubans were delighted to learn of the peace protocol, and wanted to return to their homes. Their officers, however, will not disband them, because they have no money to pay what is due them for three years' services in the field.

STRICT CENSORSHIP.

Manifesto of General Polavieja Is Rejected Publication in Madrid.

Madrid, Sept. 8.—The following statement has been made by an important Spanish official:

General Polavieja, the leader of a section of the conservative party, refused the government the support of his party, although he is fully aware of the difficulties of the situation. He is doubtless prompted by the desire to obtain power. We will do all in our power to realize his desire with short delay. The country will then see how soon the man who is now posing as a liberal will be transformed into a despotic dictator.

General Polavieja has handed a copy of his manifesto to the newspaper men, but the censor forbids its publication. He also forbids its transmission by telegraph. It is probable that the general intends to read it today in the Cortes, and it is certain the government will insist upon a secret session.

DESCENT OF LOVE.

Both men and women have like this (For poets sing a love which children mock, And bliss of love therein is laughing stock.)

Their silly words make ored for common men? Our life had long been dreamy holiday Till when one even on the bleak highway,

I told her that I loved her, and she left Her soul upon my lips, and thus we staid Beneath of earth, and then—oh, strange!—we died.

Down the bleak highway till the pines' fear Had closed his wings and left from following, So here, within sound of her sweet singing,

This summer's day I found that dread time And hark to—how my soul desert back Sublimely transcendent men and heard God speak And won his law. But once they went, no more! Yet, though that dream's rain burning in their brain,

They hurried to the ways of humble men, Nor prayed of him to visit them again! Nor heard of him in Black and White.

SERIOUS ASSAULT

Dover Hotel Keeper Held for Attempt to Murder

Thomas Lynsky, the proprietor of an inn near Granite State Park in Dover, formerly of this city, was arrested late Friday afternoon and arraigned in police court on the charge of attempting to murder William H. McHugh, the pianist in the place.

McHugh, although searched for, cannot be found by the police, but it is known that his wounds are very serious, and it is thought that Lynsky's friends have placed him in hiding.

The men are alleged to have gotten into a dispute over a trivial matter, and it is said that Lynsky got a club and used it on McHugh's head. Lynsky's bail was placed at $3,000, and a hearing will be held Sept. 16. Lillian Smith, an inmate of the house, is held in $200 as a witness. Annie Gray, another witness, has been spirited away.

Runaway at York Beach

S. C. Sleeper, who is prominently known in Concord, and who has been passing the summer at York beach, was thrown from a carriage Thursday evening and quite badly bruised about the limbs and body. Mr. Sleeper, a man some 80 years of age, invited two young ladies stopping at the house, to a drive to York village. While turning a corner in the latter place a heavy ice cart ran into them, upsetting the conveyance and throwing the occupants to the ground. The horse ran away, smashing the rig to pieces, and was not found until today.

Mr. Sleeper and the young ladies were picked up and removed to a nearby house, where a physician was called. He found the girls suffering severely from several bad cuts, while Mr. Sleeper fared worse, owing to his age. After a time, the victims were removed to the Fairmont, where they were given all possible attention. Mr. Sleeper is confined to his bed and has required the services of a physician twice since Thursday night. His injuries though not dangerous will keep him housed for some time.

THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

P. A. C. Boys Celebrate in Great Shape.

The members of the Portsmouth Athletic club celebrated their thirteenth anniversary on Thursday afternoon in a most fitting manner.

It was a glorious day and the weather could not have been better if it had been made to order.

The programme of the day included a mammoth clam-bake at the Nancy Drew farm in Newington followed by a ball game between the married men and single men and other out-door sports.

In the evening a collation was served in the club rooms which with a concert by Eastman's orchestra and the rendition of numerous songs by the club members wound up the day's sport.

At twelve o'clock the members gathered at the club house on Market street and headed by Eastman and Muller's military band proceeded to the depot where all boarded the train for Newington.

At the Nancy Drew farm, in that town, an elaborate clam bake, furnished by Captain Card of Dover Point, had been prepared.

This was opened promptly at two o'clock and how those P. A. C. fellows did eat. It was a great bake and of course nothing was left out that goes to make all well regulated bakes a success. There were plenty of fixings, and at the finish even "Trilly" was satisfied.

Then came the ball game and it was a corker.

Captain Newell of the single men called his colts together and gave them final instructions. They must win that game or die in the attempt.

The married men were all confident and watched the colts while they practiced signals for a while thinking that they would find them just as easy as in former years.

Ex-President Tobey of the common council walked out into the middle of the field with a half-sealed look on his face, but with the knowledge of that $5000 accident policy that he had taken out that morning on his life, he managed to muster up courage and called play.

And the fun commenced. The colts started in with blood in their eye and the way they capered around those bases made the benedicts sick at heart.

Nichols Robinson was in fine fettle and not over fifty men were given their base on balls by him.

They say that Manager Burns of the Chicagoes has his eye on this promising young pitcher.

Captain Newell was an eight by ten smile all during the game and said afterward that if he could keep the team together he would play in the Temple cup series this fall.

President Drew was right in the game every minute but his conduct coming home in the cars is liable to put him on the other side next season.

Captain Dan Marcy had charge of the benedicts and after the game it is said he released several of the players and will board them out to scrub teams for the rest of the season.

Shorty Burke was not in his usual good form and greatly disappointed a number of his friends.

Mate Storer has got to train down considerably more before he can play in such fast company.

The rest of the players started in all right but lost heart at the big score piled up by the colts and although receiving all the encouragement in the world were not in sight at the finish.

Space forbids giving a detailed account of the game but as near as could be figured out at the time this paper went to press the score stood thirty-five to eleven in favor of J. Will and his colts.

The following was the make up of the two teams at the start. A number of men were given their release and scores of new ones signed, but these were too numerous to keep track of.

After the game the band rendered several selections assisted by a few of the club members. At seven o'clock the big brindle bull was given a serenade and then all marched to the depot and took the train for home.

P. A. C. JOHNNERS.

Pipeman Jones thinks there are other days besides Firemen's day.

Eastman's band did excellent work and received many compliments.

The colts felt extremely jolly in the evening and had things all their own way.

It was one of the biggest turnouts the boys have had in the history of the club.

The club house was thronged all the evening and all was bright and merry inside.

P. Garnett Lowe, the crack second baseman of the colts, has been signed for next season.

Manager Mulcahey of the depot cafe catered in the evening and put up an excellent spread.

The feminine guests of the club were much disappointed in not being able to witness the game.

Joe was unable to go to the bake, but tossed his hat in the air on learning the result of the ball game.

The members of the police department were special guests of the boys, both afternoon and evening.

Little "Pitikit" covered centre field for the benedicts in great shape, but was rather weak in base running.

The base drum solo by the third baseman of the "colts" was greatly appreciated by the boys (at a distance).

Many distinguished guests were entertained during the evening, a number of officers from the yard being present.

"Dad" Hasty was highly pleased at the outcome of the ball game and was one of the foremost rooters for the "colts."

Umpire Tobey occupied a very small corner at the reception in the evening, but was surrounded and given plenty of protection by his single friends.
